CLERK: 27 ayes, 0 nays, Mr. President, to adopt Senator Conway's amendment.

SPEAKER BARRETT: The amendment is adopted. Senator Conway.

SENATOR CONWAY: I'd move readvancement, please.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Discussion. Those in favor of the readvancement please say aye. Opposed nay. Carried, the bill is readvanced. Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Mr. President, the next bill is 352. I had...Senators Weihing and Hefner had amendments printed. I have a note that you want to withdraw those, Senator. Withdraw?

SPEAKER BARRETT: They are withdrawn.

CLERK: Mr. President, I then have an amendment from Senators Landis, Ashford and Abboud. I understand it is to be withdrawn.

SENATOR LANDIS: Yes.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Withdrawn.

CLERK: Mr. President, Senators Wesely and Landis would move to return the bill for specific amendment.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Landis.

SENATOR LANDIS: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members of the Legislature, 352 is the uniform appeals bill. You'll see on your desk a listing of the provisions, generally technical in nature, but they come from the source of municipalities. There is one conflict in the bill. That conflict is the handling of liquor appeals. It arises out of a major change we made the last year or perhaps the year before, 911, you might recall the number, a bill that transferred more authority to municipalities and away from the Liquor Control Commission. You might recollect that there was an option for local control of liquor
